

SLICE of LIFE

Women weave quilts, friendships

By JOANNE MARSH
joanne.marsh
@thechronicle.com.au

CARNIVAL of Flowers week offered quilters from near and far access to many events, including the inaugural Quilting on the Downs event held by Precious Time.

Owner of Precious Time Lisa Zimmermann said a number of workshops had been organised with talented tutors, including Toowoomba's Robyn Ginn, Sue Ross, Chris Jurd, Bev McClune and Kathy Doughty from Sydney.

"The creativity, excitement, friendliness and enthusiasm of the ladies attending was really overwhelming and I thank them sincerely for supporting this event," she said.

"Day after day we were treated to new concepts and learning, fabulous quilts, we shared stories and wove a little of ourselves into new friendships."

The workshops offered one and two-day classes and were held at the All Seasons function centre.

Keep any eye out at Precious Time in Rockville for details of next year's workshops.

Majella Rush shows a beautiful quilt displayed at the inaugural Precious Time quilting workshops "Quilting on the Downs".

Jane Nash (left) takes notes from Sue Ross who taught Persian star making.

Bev McClune (left) chats with Chris Jurd at the quilting workshop.

Ros Dunlop (seated) receives quilting instruction from Robyn Ginn (centre) while Cathy Hopper watches.
Pictures: BEV LACEY

ADVERTISEMENT

Don't hurt Toowoomba's health system. Mr Lucas, pay health professionals properly.

Visit www.hpstrongertogether.com to find out more.

Authorised Alex Scott QPSU General Secretary 27 Peel Street South Brisbane 4101

